"History without borders" - Teaching history through a multiperspective approach in Bosnia and Herzegovina

We wrapped up this term with a great and significant event "History without borders" - Teaching history through a multiperspective approach in Bosnia and Herzegovina. What is the current situation with history education in Bosnia and Herzegovina? How to create a curriculum that allows multiple perspectives in complex realities? What are the main challenges for history teachers and how is history education preparing students for the future?
In case you missed this great webinar, make sure to watch the recording and hear the opinions of our expert panelists and close to 200 participants!

UWC Mostar Initiatives

Host Family Programme at UWC Mostar

Find out more about the new UWC Mostar Host Family Programme!
Host Family Programme is a volunteer program, where families welcome students into their homes for a night, a weekend or for a longer break. For students, it's a small rest from their studies and a chance to develop close relationships with BiH families. It is a unique opportunity to introduce local families to young people who share their cultures, and sometimes their cooking skills, from around the globe and to learn more about their lifestyles. This is an opportunity to be an active part of, and contribute to the UWC Mostar Mission: Building bridges between people through inspiring, quality education.
